

HARRY CLARKE

About Me

A hard working, enthusiastic and an all round good egg who has a passion for filmmaking.

I really enjoy challenging myself creatively and thinking of new ways to tackle problems. I have experience working on a variety of films from commercials to documentaries.

I'm highly motivated, energetic and dedicated to being reliable as I understand the fundamental need to work as a team. I have collaborated with others in everything I have done, be it to start a company or captain my Roller hockey team. This has given me the ability to lead as well as to step back and allow others to take the front role.

Working on a variety of projects has developed my ability to listen to and incorporate the ideas of others to achieve a new and improved outcome.
